

ANCHORING FRESHERS PARTY

2024

Here's a bilingual script and outline for your fresher's party, balancing formality with humor, incorporating conversational elements between you and Deepali, and engaging the audience.

1. Taking Over from Previous Anchors

You: "Thank you so much to our lovely anchors for starting the evening with such energy! Let's give them another round of applause, everyone!"

Deepali: "And now, we, your new anchors, are here to take over and keep the fun going!"

You: "Absolutely! By the way, I'm [Your Name], a second-year student of the 3-year LLB program."

Deepali: "And I'm Deepali, from the third year of the 5-year BA LLB program. So technically, I'm a junior but in the senior year—figure that out!" (laughs)

You: "Basically, she's caught in the middle! But together, we're here to guide you through the rest of this amazing evening filled with laughter, dance, music, and so much more!"

Deepali: "So sit back, relax, and let's make this night one to remember!"

2. Setting the Tone and Welcoming the Juniors

You: "Tonight is all about welcoming you, our juniors, to this vibrant and slightly chaotic world of law school. You're about to embark on a journey full of cases, citations, and late-night study marathons."

Deepali: "But don't worry, we seniors are here to make it... well, not easier, but definitely more fun!" (smiles)

You: "Exactly. Aaj ki raat, hum na sirf aapka swagat karne aaye hain, balki aapko yeh bhi batane aaye hain ki law school sirf kitaabon ka samundar nahi, yahaan dosti aur yaadon ka bhi safar hai."

Deepali: "Kyunki aakhir, jo law school ke exams nahi tod paaye, wo dosti aur fun tod degi!" (laughs)

You: "But jokes aside, we truly welcome you with open arms and are excited for everything that lies ahead."

3. Introducing Stand-up Comedy by Ram Ras

Deepali: "And now, it's time for some laughs! After all, law school can be tough, but a little humor goes a long way."

You: "Presenting a man who can turn even the driest legal principle into a punchline—Ram Ras! Ram is one of those people who knows how to find the funny side of everything. I mean, who knew 'negligence' could be so hilarious?" (winks)

Deepali: "Tonight, Ram is going to share his take on law school life, so brace yourselves for some witty one-liners, courtroom drama, and a lot of laughter."

You: "Toh zor daar taaliyon se swagat kijiye, the one and only—Ram Ras!" (Pause for applause)

After performance:

You: "That was absolutely hilarious! I mean, who else could make the Indian Penal Code sound like stand-up material?"

Deepali: "Right? Let's give him another round of applause!"

You: "And we hope you're all ready for more because there's plenty still to come!"
